Overview of Master's Program

The master's degrees leading to initial " A " licensure or advanced competencies " M " licensure are offered by two departments in the School of Education (SOE), two departments in the College of Arts and Sciences (CAS), one department in the School of Health and Human Services (HHS), and two departments in the School of Music, Theatre and Dance (MTD).

The SOE Department of Teacher Education and Higher Education offers an MAT (Masters of Arts in Teaching) for initial licensure in Elementary Education, English as a Second Language, Middle Grades Education, and Secondary Science and Social Studies, as well as an M.Ed. for advanced licensure in Elementary Education, Elementary Mathematics, Elementary Science, English as a Second Language, Instructional Technology (on moratorium), Reading, and Middle Grades/Secondary English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science and Social Studies. The Department of Library and Information Studies also offers Instructional Technology and a postbaccalaureate certificate program in Special Endorsement in Computer Education.

The SOE Department of Specialized Education Services (SES) offers an M.Ed. for individuals who hold initial licensure in special education: general curriculum. SES M.Ed. candidates who hold a teaching license in another area must take at least six semester hours of pre-requisites. Candidates who do not hold a teaching license must complete a post-baccalaureate licensure program prior to enrolling in the M.Ed. program.

The College of Arts and Sciences Department of Language, Literature and Cultural Studies offers an MAT and an M.Ed. in French and Spanish. The CAS Department of Classical Studies and the MTD Department of Dance offer an M.Ed. and M.A. respectively, both leading to advanced competencies licensure. The School of Education Department of Specialized Education Services and the Health and Human Services Department of Human Development and Family Studies jointly offer an M.Ed. in Birth-Kindergarten: Interdisciplinary Studies in Education and Development.

The M.A. in Dance Education and the M.Ed. in Birth-Kindergarten, Elementary Mathematics, and Latin are offered as online programs, with Dance requiring two summer courses on campus. The post-baccalaureate certificate programs in Birth-Kindergarten, Computer Education and Special Education are also offered online. Several programs are offered at off campus locations, including M.Ed. programs in Elementary Mathematics, Elementary Science, Middle Grades/Secondary Mathematics, Reading, and Special Education: General Curriculum.

All of the master's programs require a culminating initial or advanced competencies portfolio that demonstrates the candidates' meeting North Carolina graduate teaching standards.

Special Features of Master's Program

Master's coursework and clinical practice are aligned with state and national standards, as well as the UNCG Conceptual Framework: "The mission of professional education at The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is to ensure 'Access to Opportunities through Teaching, Learning and Caring.' This requires excellence in all our programs through alignment to state and national standards; explicit connections between research, theory and practice; candidates' acquisition of the knowledge, skills and dispositions of their disciplines; detailed evaluation of our candidates' continual professional growth; collaboration among stakeholders; ongoing selfstudy; and an overriding commitment to fostering beliefs and actions that promote education for all. Toward these ends, our Unit and programs focus on six areas: leadership, professional knowledge, professional practice, educational environments, data-informed decision making, and professional growth to support the learning of all children in the context of $21^{\text {st }}$ century complexity and dynamic change." All programs were reviewed and revised by 2010-11, in alignment with new Conceptual Framework and with state and national standards. Programs continue to use data to inform program self-study and improvement.
